

AUTHOR VISIT ON 27th September 2030

Dear Parents,

We're excited to tell you about an upcoming event. On xx author, Sue Palmer, will visit our school to run a space workshop with our children called ' Could you be an astronaut?' She will also be reading from the first book in her May's Moon Trilogy.

"Michael's legs wobbled underneath him. What if he wasn't any good? What if he messed it up? This wasn't just a dream any more. He really was in America and he really was just about to find out what it felt like to float in space..."

Beating thousands of others, Michael May the geeky boy who at home is called 'Micky Moon', is one of ten children accepted onto the 'Children's Moon Program' in Florida. If he can survive the powerful g-force of a space-shuttle launch, overcome his secret fear of water and pass a battery of challenging tests, he could win a place on the next mission to the moon! Some of the others seem willing to do almost anything. Is he?"

"Exciting...thrilling...fast-paced adventure!" ~ Billy Bob Buttons author of /I Think I Murdered Miss/ and winner of the UK People's Book Prize

If you would like your child to have a book signed by Sue or to order books for gifts, please complete and return this form with payment to your child's teacher by xx. Sue will sign and personalize each book. Thank you.
